

The Strategic Consulting Group's defence sector consultants have broad experience and knowledge of defence procurement and program implementation. Our team members have worked with both national and internationally-based private and public sector defence organizations. We've worked as designers and leaders as part of integrated project/engineering teams in Canada, USA, Europe, UK and Australia.

Our Approach

Defence programs and associated procurement processes are multi-year, multi-supplier operations. Our knowledge base plus frequent monitoring of contracting rules and requirements ensure our services are aligned accordingly to comply with program constraints.

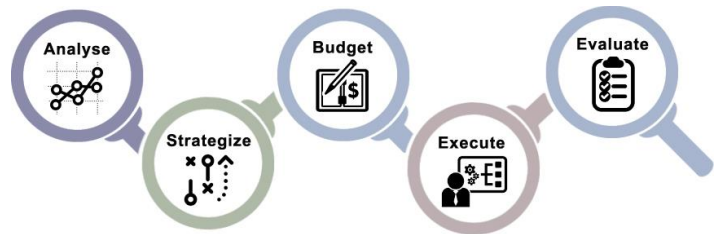

Sample Solutions

Our work encompasses research into future technologies to fast deployment into active theatres and FOBs.

Federal Government – Defence Departments
We have provided Canadian and foreign government organizations with services in support of Capital Procurement as well as Research and Development programs.

Defence Contractors
We have supported numerous large and small contractors with a range of services to successfully complete individual or multiple project phases.

Projects and Programs
We work as a preferred supplier, an engineering resource within integrated project teams or as domain experts on an as required basis.
