

The Strategic Consulting Group's operational excellence consultants have broad experience and knowledge of all aspects of operations across several industry sectors. We have hands-on experience in production scheduling, materials planning, production processing, engineering, process layout and improvement, quality management, supplier and customer relationship management, Lean, Six Sigma, quality systems, warehouse and inventory management.

Our Approach

Our strategic consultants take the time to understand your systems and processes, analyze those systems and processes to identify improvement opportunities, and then recommend next steps that can simplify flow, improve quality, reduce cost, and reduce the time to deliver those products and services, leading to reduced capital employed and increased margins / profitability.

The multi-sector experience gained by our strategic consultants provides an opportunity to recommend improvements that may not be noticed by employees. Also, the external viewpoint may detect issues that have been accepted as "Business-as-Usual" within the company.

Sample Solutions

Electro-Mechanical Design and Build

- We lead the implementation of ISO 9001, ISO 13485, and Controlled Goods registrations.

Machine Shop

- Our Lean implementation project significantly reduced inventory, employee turnover, and scrap resulting in improved revenue per person and profitability.

Semiconductor Intellectual Property Development

- We lead the ISO 9001 QMS development, training, and implementation. Managed the registrar selection process and facilitated a successful registration with an accelerated schedule.
